It Costs $40.00 For Doctor's Visit

On Alberta's Prairies—DR. CHASE'S Medicine and Receipt Book
Very Popular Out There.

The luxuries of city life are little known in the prairie homes of Western Canada. When sickness comes people find it necessary to depend on their own resources, and often on account of the poverty and expense of a doctor's visit.

By reading the letter ideas how Dr. Chase's Medicine and Receipt Book is appreciated in Alberta. This is not only due to the convenience of having these medicines at hand when occasion requires but is also owing to their wonderful results.

Who would not find such a restorative treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, to enrich the blood, strengthen the nerves and build up the run down system?

Mr. Geo. Clay, Oxtville, Alberta, writes: "I have always been a great admirer of Dr. Chase's Medicines and have had his large Receipt Book for over twenty years. His medicines and book have saved me many doctor bills and have proved wonderful in their value. It costs $40.00 for a doctor to come out here, so it is rather expensive to get sick."

"I recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to a friend of mine for his wife, who had the symptoms of Dr. Chase's Almanac and found she needed Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to restore her worn out nervous system. She has been taking it ever since until he could get to town when he got two boxes more and these cured her entirely."

"For rheumatism, I used Dr. Chase's Gout and Rheumatism with splendid results. For some time I was bad with catarrh and could not breath through my nose. Now I go to bed and never wake all night and breaths are like a train of thought."

Dr. Chase's Medicines are for sale by all dealers' or Edmaston, Bales & Co., Toronto.

There is no better medicine in the entire list of pill prescriptions.

SAVED IN HIS OLD AGE

Anderson, N. S., May 24, 1909—I am over eighty years of age and have suffered from Kidney and Bladder trouble for fifteen years. I took doctors' medicine but got no help. I went to a druggist and bought a sample box of Gin Pills, which helped me.

I have taken six boxes of Gin Pills altogether, but only before I had taken over half that amount. I had to get up some nights every fifteen minutes and had to use an instrument before I could urinate. Now I can lie in bed four or five hours without getting up.

Attacks of cholera and dysentery come quickly, these seldom being regular, but the great majority of men are not of regular habit. The worry and cares of business prevent it, and out of the irregularity, the liver and kidneys, indigestion, liver and kidney trouble as a protest. The run-down system demands a corrective and there is none better than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple in their concoction and can be taken by the most delicately constipated.

Important To Farmers And Stockmen.

The farmer or rancher who wish to enlarge or improve his herd, by securing some of the well bred stock now being put on the market, because of the crowding out of the big ranchers, will open application to the Live Stock Commissioner at Edmonton, be put in touch with parties who are offering their stock for sale. Several ranchers have already given notice of their intention to reduce the size of their herds or sell out entirely.

Most of the herds reported are of the Shorthorn or Hereford breeding, or are crosses of these breeds. Practically all are bred for beef production, and being range bred are much able to care for themselves than are the farm bred that finds its way to here from the east.

These animals will be of a use to dairy men.

Address to enquiries to the undersigned in care of the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

W. F. Stevens,
Live Stock Commissioner.

ALBERTA TEACHERS

The Provincial Normal school of New Brunswick this year graduated one of the largest classes in its history and the St. John Standard bewails the fact that a large number of the teachers will never practice their chosen profession in the east. It says some will leave for the west at once and others will, as soon as they have a little money teaching down here.

The Standard indirectly blames the west and expresses the opinion that we should feel grateful to those for supplying the prairie country with teachers. It goes on: "We are not only sparing them men and women that we need at home, but we are preparing them at provincial expense for educational work in new provinces."

Lest budding pedagogues from the effete east should imagine that going through the New Brunswick normal entitles them to teach in this province normal graduates from any province in Canada, with the exception of Ontario and Saskatchewan, are not allowed to teach in this province without taking normal training here. Temporary permits are issued, but at the next normal session they must be enrolled and show efficiency according to our standard.

The Herald does not wish to go on record as an advocate of a provincial standard for teaching or any other profession. The simplest way would be for the provinces of the dominion to get together and fix a standard. This would apply to teaching, as well as the legal profession and medicine. The members of the latter profession are now seriously considering the question. If a doctor in Banff has sufficient skill to attend a man who had his leg broken he should be able to do the same at Golden. If a lawyer can plead the case of a man in Alberta he should be equally competent to person his facts in Saskatchewan. And likewise if a standard of education was set for the whole dominion teachers should be equally competent from one end of Canada to the other. Calgary Herald.

PROF. MILLER THINKS THERE IS IMMENSE WEALTH.

He Declares that the District Around Hudson Bay Will Prove to Contain Great Areas of Valuable Minerals—Mining Has Triped in the Past Two Years and Will Continue to Develop.

The mineral industry of Canada stands second in order of the industries based on natural resources. The output of this country is at the rate of $12,500 per head of the population," said Professor Willett G. Miller at an Empire Club luncheon recently in Toronto.

There are three times as much now as there were ten years ago," he stated. Of the four basic industries of the country, agriculture, forestry, fisheries, and the mineral industry, agriculture stands at the top. Next come the fisheries, which are equal, said Professor Miller. "Miller," to forestry and fisheries combined. Then comes forestry, and last of all, fisheries.

Although Canada has a comparatively small population, the mining industry is unique in that we lead the world in the production of nickel, cobalt, asbestos, and several other mineral products.

PROF. WILLETT G. MILLER.

"In the United States the minerals and mineral products are responsible for 65 per cent of the freight carried by the railways. The output can be said to be $25 per head of the population.

"In the 3,750,000 square miles of Canada about one-third are suitable for no other purpose than the production of minerals. There are certainly now under construction which will double, and are doubling, the regions which are accessible to the prospectors and miners."

"If the proposed railway to Fort Nelson on Hudson Bay is constructed the enormous territory which is tributary to the coast line of the Bay will be opened up to the prospector. From what we know already of the rocks surrounding this region there is great promise for it as a future mineral field."

"Another great territory which is very promising from a mineral point of view will be opened up by the road which is now under construction, that from Edmonton to Fort McMurray."

"Since Cobalt has been going it has produced over $30,000,000 worth of minerals, of which over half has been distributed in profits. That means that there is already more than paid for the Government railway, which was constructed at a cost of $10,000,000."

"There are undoubtedly large extensions of gold-bearing quartz in Porcupine, and owing to many discoveries having been made so late in the season little has been done in the way of thorough testing."

The Apes of Gibraltar.

Few visitors to Gibraltar ever see the famous apes that from time immemorial have inhabited the island, the only wild simians in Europe. The apes live high on the big rock, and when they do venture down to the nearer gardens of the town to steal food, it is not the apes that are afraid of it. As a matter of fact, there have been fewer apes to be seen there in the recent years. For some reason or other the never-large number has been decreasing. Some of the apes, fearing of the fortress guns, have driven them off; but if so, where did they go? Not across the "neutral ground" and up into Spain, the only alternative to swimming across the narrow strait, going into Barbary whence their ancestors may have been brought centuries ago. The straits being wide, that alternative is out of the question. It was the recent report of a report that the apes had dwindled down to eight in number and there were those who asserted that the count should be only four or five, and so I waited at that New Year's Day. After the usual round of games and fun, a pair of Barbary apes were sent over from Tethys by the British consul. But a strange stroke of ill-luck held the male, which after suffering the usual round of amorous and romping antics with the female, died of Wellington himself, of the battle of Waterloo. The report is dated June 19, the fighting having continued from the 15th to the 18th.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.

The Financial Man Totally Forgot His Little Snare.

Mr. Harry Scott, at one time financial editor on The Toronto Globe staff, and now Canadian Commissioner in New York, has made his home in Toronto. On one occasion, while he was on the Globe staff, occasion arose for editorial comment on the financial situation in the United States. In the name of the editor, he should have signed his name to the job. But Mr. S. T. Wood received the instructions to write the articles instead.

Mr. Scott, being only human, felt some chagrin at this event, which became an impasse when Mr. Wood, in his leisurely fashion, strolled down to the financial editor's den every day to get the latest news from American centres. He habitually, and to the other's distaste, spread his huge limbs upon half the surface of the编辑's desk, and upon the editor's chair.

One day, at the approach of the fatal hour, therefore, he seized his brush and with swift, remorseless strokes smeared that portion of his desk upon which the editor's name was written to cover it over.

Mr. Wood arrived, and the plot深了.

He walked in, was attracted immediately by the window, and all unconscious of what he was expected to do ranged himself along the radiator! Fortune had so far befriended him. His guilty host, however, refused to be fobbed off so easily. Scott began measures to dislodge him and lead him into the snare. He entered with heat into the controversy, for Mr. Wood has the faculty of putting his opinions into pillow talk. He was not much heard. The interest heightened. Mr. Scott, engaged wholly, forgot, in the moment, the desk, and, presently seeking a base whence he might stand, stepped down out of the seat, carefully prepared for the undoing of another.

"Something (ah! tell me what) there is."

To cause that scathing tone, Fearer a thought goes amiss, Returning quite alone."

The New Conservative Whip.

The event predicted for week back has now occurred when the House of Commons assembles next autumn a "Taylor of Leeds" will no longer be Whip of the Opposition and his justice will be performed by George H. Perley.

Mr. Perley is one of the best known citizens of Ottawa. The son of W. G. Perley, the head of the lumber firm of Perley &amp; Pettes, who was himself a member of Parliament, he was born in Mr. G. H. Perley was born in Lebanon, New Hampshire, in 1857, but came to Canada in an early age. He was educated at the Ottawa Normal School, at St. Paul's School, Concord, N.H., and at Harvard University, where he took his degree of B.A. in 1878.

He has long been active in the life of Ottawa. He is the president of the Canada Atlantic Railway; a director of the Bank of Ottawa; has been president of the Rideau Club; is an enthusiastic member of the Royal Canadian Golf Club; and was chairman of the relief committee which administered the funds for the relief of the sufferers by the great fire in Ottawa and Hull in 1900. He was a member of the bar, but was defeated. His next attempt was at Argenteuil in 1892, but he was beaten by Dr. Christie, but there again he was defeated by 191 majority, but he had better luck in 1910 when he won out by 176 and was re-elected at the last general election.

He has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the Church of England in the diocese of Ottawa.

Indian Relics.

The Ontario Education Department has exhibited a curious and interesting collection of Indian relics. The collection was bought from Mrs. Rutherford, whose husband was in the British Civil Service in India, and spent many years in gathering the relics.

The collection is a large one. Chief among the relics is a river crocodile which had a known record of killing six Indian women, before Mr. Rutherford shot it. There are two mounted and two unmounted specimens, known to the medical fraternity. Cartar being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh is taken directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the natural resistance and assimilating it in doing its work. The proprietors have as much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of cases.

Buy Regina Land.

Mark Hambourg, the distinguished pianist, during his recent visit to Regina, purchased four lots of land or two double corner sites. These lots are situated at Regina, a place easily situated in the Lake View annex, which adjoins the new Parliament building site. Mr. Hambourg said that this was the first property he had purchased in Canada, and he considered his investment a good one. He was thoroughly impressed by the wonderful growth of Regina since he last passed through the town some years ago.

A Zoo of Diseases.

Sir James Crichton-Browne, speaking at the annual dinner of the London School of Child Medicine, Greenwich, there was a seminar to which medical men of all ages could resort and acquaint themselves with all recent developments in the field of medicine. This seminar was "a zoological garde d'asile." Every foreign disease was assembled there, every ill that black, white, red, or yellow flesh was hair to.

TONIC TREATMENT FOR INDIGESTION

The Process of Digestion is Controlled by the Blood and Nerves.

If you have indigestion and you are seeking a treatment to make your stomach stronger, you are on the right track for a cure. You can never cure yourself by eating predigested foods, or by taking purgative medicines. The stomach is not doing its own work under these treatments, the stomach is strong enough to digest all the food necessary to maintain the body in normal health. The stomach is the tonic of the digestive system, and the stomach is controlled by the blood and nerves. They actually make new, rich and nutritious blood every minute.

One day, at the approach of the fatal hour, therefore, he seized his brush and with swift, remorseless strokes smeared that portion of his desk upon which the editor's name was written to cover it over.

Mr. Wood arrived, and the plot深了.

He walked in, was attracted immediately by the window, and all unconscious of what he was expected to do ranged himself along the radiator!

Fortune had so far befriended him. His guilty host, however, refused to be fobbed off so easily. Scott began measures to dislodge him and lead him into the snare. He entered with heat into the controversy, for Mr. Wood has the faculty of putting his opinions into pillow talk. He was not much heard. The interest heightened. Mr. Scott, engaged wholly, forgot, in the moment, the desk, and, presently seeking a base whence he might stand, stepped down out of the seat, carefully prepared for the undoing of another.

The Nova Scotian Awakening.

Maritime Province Is Again Coming Into Her Own.

It is not possible that a country regarded with a slight contemptuous pity by reason of its inactivity may all the while merely strengthening its fibres for future action?

Since the confederation of the provinces of Nova Scotia. Previous to confederation the province of Canada exhibited a greater commercial activity, from the great shipbuilding industry which was developed into the water by the hundred and sailed away with the fruits of her industry to distant ports and returned as heavily laden. Small shopkeepers and manufacturers were numerous, and numerous merchants developed into merchant princes. Work and money were plentiful, and the flag of prosperity flew high.

The flag of prosperity descended with the hoisting of the Canadian National ensign in Nova Scotia. Confederation, that splendid achievement in the making of Canadian destiny, brought with it the tonic of the digestive system, and the stomach is the tonic of the digestive system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. They actually make new, rich and nutritious blood every minute.

One day, at the approach of the fatal hour, therefore, he seized his brush and with swift, remorseless strokes smeared that portion of his desk upon which the editor's name was written to cover it over.

Somehow the average girl exercises better judgment in choosing her friends than she does in choosing a husband.

Two young ladies boarded a crowded train and were obliged to stand. One of them to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand. They had stood thus for a few moments when the girl discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed: "Oh, I've got the wrong hand!" Whereupon the man, with a smile, straightened forth his other hand, saying: "Here is the other one, madam."

Experience with the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment will soon convince any one that eczema is a disease of the skin and not of the blood.

BRANDED BY TARTARS.

A Greek Robber Who Was Tattooed From Head to Foot

A remarkable case of branding came to light in Professor Heben's lecture room in a hospital in Vienna a number of years ago. The man was the subject of a lecture, and one of the spectators at first mistook him for a bronze statue. He was tattooed from head to foot and not a quarter of a square inch of his entire person was left unbranded.

The skin presented an appearance resembling the tracery of an exceedingly rich cashmere shawl. The coloring was done with indigo principally, with enough red inserted here and there to give it effect. His name was George Constantine, a Greek by birth, who with a band of robbers entered Athens.

The gang was captured, and this man, with others, was ordered by the ruler to be branded in this manner.

On the palms of his hands letters were tattooed which explained that he was "the greatest rascal and thief in the world." It took three months to tattoo the hands and the letters being pricked into the skin. The designs included elephants, lions, tigers and birds, with letters worked in between. A couple of dragons ornamented his forehead. He said his body swelled up very much at the time and ever since had been sensitive to changes in the weather.—Westminster Gazette.

A DELICATE HINT.

The Present Girard Sent to One of His Ship Captains.

One of the most popular in the employ of Stephen Girard, the founder of Girard college, had a rural Yankee's fondness for whittling with his jack-knife and on one trip succeeded in getting away with a large part of the rail, although, feeling that he was not without the artful sense, he really regarded the rail as greatly improved in appearance. When the vessel came into Philadelphia, Girard was informed, made a general investigation in the captain's absence and as he was about to return to shore asked one of the seamen who had been cutting the rail. The seaman told him the captain and then, afraid his telling might have unpleasant consequences, was the captain led to learn of it in a roundabout way, instead of that official of the interview with Girard. The captain, however, was a man of a reprobate, but being nothing from his employer, supposed the incident closed. As he was about weighing anchor ready to leave port a dray loaded with shingles drove down to the wharf, and the driver halted the vessel.

"There must be some mistake," said the captain. "Our bill of lading doesn't mention shingles."

"This is where they belong," sang back the driver. "Mr. Girard himself told me to deliver them. He said they are for the captain to whittle."

Sail Examination.

Every man's life is an imperfect sort of sail, which is repeated beneath over every day. He has a sort of thoughts, desires, and inclinations which return upon him in their proper time and order and will very hardly be laid aside to make room for anything new and unfamiliar, so that call upon him when you please, to set about the study of his own heart and mind, and you will find that either he has some business to do or some company that he must entertain or some cross accident has put him out of humor and unfitted him for such a grave employment. And thus it cometh to pass that a man can never find leisure to look into himself, because he doth not set apart some portion of the day for that purpose, but foolishly devotes it from day to another until his mind is almost run out and he is called upon to give a miserable account of himself in the other world.—Dean Swift.

A Pheasant's Blid Flight.

Speaking of the habits of pheasants, Baily's Magazine says:—

"A very curious incident was recorded in October, 1864. A hen pheasant was found in a field of grain and as she got up to fly into a piece of wet, wet leaf, which clung around her head, completely enveloping it and blinding her. She kept ahead to wind, so that the wet leaf still remained plastered over her eyes, and in this flight fluttered higher till she became exhausted and gradually sank to earth again."

"The frequency with which pheasants fly, especially when they are fat, results, it is thought, to be due to the bird in its haste being deceived by the reflection in the glass of the landscape behind it."

Sledghammer Education.

The teacher of one of the grades in a primary school was astonished to receive the following communication from the father of a pupil:

"Dear Sir—Thinking it fit necessary, I hereby give you permission to beat my son anytime it is necessary to teach him his lesson. My Tom is just like his mother, and I have him in a club. Just you pound noisette into him the way I want. Don't pay no attention to what his father says. I will handle him."
